Commercial diving services
Marine construction & boat charter

Established in 1985 and based in Kirkwall, Orkney, Leask Marine has built a solid reputation delivering diving services. Our strengths include:

- Diversity of services
- Risk assessment and mitigation
- Project management
- Qualified and experienced personnel
- Internal resources and support
- Safety management system
- Member of the Association of Diving Contractors

DIVING

Leask Marine comprises three teams of divers with experience of a broad spectrum of search, inspection, maintenance and installation work, in the use of a wide range of hydraulic tools and welding and cutting equipment.

Leask Marine have supported Northern Constabulary, HM Coastguard, RNLI and Air Accident Investigation Branch operations and were selected, with Briggs Marine, to participate in the first joint civilian/UK MoD underwater project of recent years—the hot-tapping of fuel from the wreck of the battleship HMS Royal Oak, a designated war grave in 2001-2003.

MARINE RENEWABLES

Recent years have seen us focus on the expanding field of tidal and wave energy. Working in cooperation with the European Marine Energy Centre, we have frequently supported the installation, testing, maintenance and recovery of wave energy devices and their supporting infrastructure. Our clients include: Auatera; Aqua Marine Power; Tidal Generation Ltd.; Ocean Power Delivery, Hydro Contracting; McLaughlin & Harvey Ltd. and Longbore Ltd.
